II. Composition: My Favorite Singer 70%

Write an essay of 150-200 words to introduce one of your favorite singers. The singer can be a Taiwanese native or a foreign person.

Try to write in detail and in depth about this singer, so that the reader can better understand this singer after reading your essay. That’s to say, try to show that you know this singer very well.

When you write, you can think about some of these questions: Who is your favorite singer? What do you make of his/her appearance? What’s his/her performance style that makes him/her stand out? What is his/her background and how did he/she grow up to become a star? What personalities make him/her gain popularity and catch people’s attention? Which song do you like the best from his/her albums and what is the meaning of this song to you? What are some of his/her influences to you?
