Questions 4-5

William Smith worked as a taxi driver for almost thirty years. The taxi company is Capital Taxi in Taunton, England. He drove his taxi six days a week from 1:00 to 6:00 in the morning. He took a lot of business people home after work.

Taunton is a small city and there were traffic jams every evening. Traffic was always the worst from 4:50 PM until about 6:00 PM. However, it didn’t bother him because he worked at midnight.

Most passengers were nice and friendly. William liked to show tourists the beautiful town. His taxi was clean and he often tried to be polite. He also helped people with their bags. The trip to the school accommodation was usually his highest fare. Most passengers tipped him 10%. Sometimes they just said, “Keep the change.” His largest tip ever was 10 pounds. He liked his job and made a comfortable living. He doesn’t drive a taxi anymore. He is retired now. So he has lots of free time to do gardening.

4. What did this man do?
   (A) He was a truck driver.  (B) He drove a taxi.
   (C) He was a pilot.  (D) He was a bus driver.

5. Where did this work?
   (A) Canada  (B) Spain  (C) Germany  (D) UK
